Terms and Conditions

Slab Sharks Inc. reserves the right to reject any consigned items at its sole discretion, including but not limited to items suspected of alteration (e.g., trimming, recolouring), authenticity concerns, or items reported as stolen. If such issues are identified after an item has been listed, Slab Sharks Inc. reserves the right to remove the item immediately, notify the consignor, and where applicable, inform the appropriate authorities. Upon receipt of a consignment, items will be placed into the queue for inclusion in the next available weekly auction; however, Slab Sharks Inc. reserves the right to defer an item to a subsequent auction to optimize performance and final sale value. Auctions typically run between 7:00 PM EST and 12:30 AM EST, and unless otherwise agreed, all items are listed as $0.99 starting bid, no-reserve, 7-day auctions.

It is the consignor's responsibility to disclose any notable attributes of an item (e.g., jersey number, serial significance, or unique characteristics) prior to listing. Consignors may request revisions to item details through the Slab Sharks Portal, which are subject to review and approval prior to auction. Items selected for APEX Auctions are subject to a 10-day auction format. In the event that an APEX item is unpaid, cancelled, or otherwise not completed, the item will be automatically relisted in the next available weekly auction, either within the Thursday Night Auction or Saturday Auction depending on the category of the item, as determined by Slab Sharks Inc. The consignor acknowledges that unpaid APEX results do not guarantee equivalent outcomes upon relisting.

If an item remains unpaid through the eBay platform after two auction cycles, Slab Sharks Inc. may return the item to the consignor upon request, with return shipping costs to be covered by the consignor or alternatively arranged for pickup at Slab Sharks Inc.'s head office at no charge. A third auction attempt may be conducted at the consignor's request. Consignors and affiliated parties are strictly prohibited from engaging in shill bidding or self-bidding on any items listed by Slab Sharks Inc., as such actions violate auction integrity and eBay policies. If such activity is detected, Slab Sharks Inc. reserves the right to remove the item, cancel the sale, suspend or terminate services, and report the violation. If a consignor is found to have won their own item, it will not be returned and will instead be relisted until sold to a legitimate third-party buyer.

If an item does not meet auction viability standards (e.g., raw cards receiving no bids), a reprocessing fee may be applied should the consignor request the item to be returned, in addition to applicable shipping costs. This fee is subject to change at the discretion of Slab Sharks Inc. Payout reports will be issued within four (4) business days following auction close (typically Tuesday), and payments will be processed within five (5) business days (typically Wednesday), subject to successful buyer payment and transaction completion. By consigning items with Slab Sharks Inc., the consignor acknowledges and accepts the inherent nature of auction-based sales, including price variability and market-driven outcomes, and agrees that the highest valid bid at auction conclusion constitutes a binding sale to the winning bidder. By signing, the consignor agrees to all terms and conditions outlined above. For more information, please visit www.slabsharks.com.
