Terms and Conditions

Slab Sharks Inc. reserves the right to reject any items based on a variety of factors including suspicion of alterations, trimming, recolouring, if reported stolen, authenticity issues, and other factors. If discovered after the item has already been listed, it will be removed and the consignor, as well as the appropriate authorities, may be notified (if applicable). Once an item is consigned, the item will be placed in the queue to be auctioned in our earliest weekly auction, including our Thursday Night Auction (sports) or Saturday TCG Auction (non-sport, trading card games, and pop culture items). Slab Sharks Inc. reserves the right to move a consignment to the following auction cycle for optimal results. It is the consignor's responsibility to communicate any special qualities related to an item (e.g. jersey number). Otherwise, customers will have an opportunity to request a revision via the Slab Sharks Portal.

Once Slab Sharks Inc. receives a consignment, items will only be returned to the consignor if the item remains unpaid via the eBay platform for two consecutive auction cycles (Thursday and/or Saturday auctions). Items may be re-auctioned for a third time at the consignor's request. Return shipping is to be paid by the consignor, or they may arrange a pick-up at our head office free of charge. All items are listed within our weekly auction formats (Thursday and Saturday auctions). Auction slots may begin at 7:00 PM EST and may end at 12:30 AM EST depending on the auction schedule. All auctions start at $0.99 unless otherwise negotiated, and are run as no-reserve 7-day auctions.

As a consignor, you understand the nature of an auction and that the highest paid bidder is the rightful owner of the item upon auction completion. Slab Sharks Inc. reserves the right to list the item at any time within our auction schedules (Thursday and Saturday). It is strictly prohibited for consignors or any affiliated parties to engage in shilling or self-bidding on items listed on the store. Such activities undermine the integrity of the bidding process and violate eBay's policies. If we determine a consignor or affiliate has engaged in shilling or self-bidding, we reserve the right to remove the item, cancel the sale, suspend or terminate our services, and report the violations. If a consignor wins their own item, it will not be returned and will instead be relisted until sold to a legitimate third party.

If an item does not meet the requirements for auction (e.g. raw cards that do not receive any bids at the end of a Thursday or Saturday auction), a reprocessing fee will be applied in addition to shipping costs if the consignor wishes to have the item returned. The reprocessing fee is subject to change. Payout reports will be sent to the consignor on Thursdays, regardless of auction type. Payment will also be issued on Thursdays, regardless of auction type.

By signing the form below, you agree to the terms and conditions outlined above. For more information, please visit www.slabsharks.com.
